from Saginaw and discovers that nearly sixty Catholics are in need of pastoral service there. Thus, our rich history comes to light when the priests of Immaculate Conception Parish in York begin a mission outreach to the Saginaw Catholics.

1923 The seeds of Catholic life and history take root when a priest from York is asked to bury a 3-year-old boy

1924 A 20' x 40' frame chapel, built in Saginaw and dedicated to Saint Joseph, becomes the spiritual home of a group of Catholics dedicated to God through witness and service.

1944 Bishop Leech grants permission to move the mission chapel to York Haven. Plans are to build a new church under the patronage of the Holy Infant.

1948-1949 The Mission builds a new church in York Haven and moves from Saginaw to our present location.

1972 Holy Infant officially becomes a Parish in the Diocese of Harrisburg.

1977 Parish purchases a house on an adjacent property to serve as a rectory and offices.

1985-1987 Parishioners respond to the growing needs of the parish by building the Saint Joseph Education Center.

2009-2011 Parish actively engages in a process of discovery: how to best meet the physical needs of our growing parish in order to fulfill our mission to area Catholics and non-Catholics alike. The resulting consensus is to build a new church on a 35-acre property near Strinestown.

2012 Following the positive results of a Feasibility Study, the Parish conducts a capital campaign, Building for Our Family of Faith, to raise $1.05 million.

October 21, 2012 Parishioners celebrate a Kick-off event for the capital campaign.

December 15-16, 2012 Father Malesic announces reaching the $1.05 million campaign pledge goal.
